MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 13, 1897.

RAILROAD MISSION NOTES.—The service in the auditorium yesterday afternoon was something out of the ordinary. Rev. Berryman Green, of Christ Church, was unable to be present, and Rev. J. H. Wells, of the Gibson street M. E. Church South, who was in the congregation, preached an excellent sermon which was full of power and which was heard with close attention. Mr. Dobberson, of Washington, telegraphed on account of sickness and the Misses Rebecca and Mary Polard, of this city, sang with their usual grace a duet entitled "Some Mother's Child," which was enjoyed by the unusually large crowd present.

To-night the service in the Reading Room will be led by Mr. Harvey Sanford, of this city, who is an earnest speaker.

Beginning with to-morrow evening a series of evangelistic services will be begun. Rev. Mr. Butler, of the Baptist Church, will preach at 7:45 o'clock. These services will be preceded by a 15 minute song service and will be held in the auditorium.

Night Report.—Last night was clear and warm. Three prisoners and two lodgers were at the station house.

RAILROAD CHANGES.—A number of changes were made at the shops of the Southern Railway Company in this city on Saturday evening. Mr. James W. Shinn was succeeded as foreman of the roundhouse and wrecking shops by Mr. Charles Elliott, who formerly occupied the position of general foreman. Mr. Sheehan, who has been assistant foreman of the shops, was appointed to fill the general foremanship, and Mr. Shinn was, it is said, assigned to duty in the tool room. It is understood that Mr. Shinn will decline to accept the position offered him. He has been in the employ of the Southern Railway Company for about thirty-two years, and has held the position of foreman for seventeen years. Mr. Sheehan, the newly appointed general foreman, is from Jacksonville, Fla., where he held the position of master mechanic for a number of years.

THE NEW ICE MAKING COMPANY.—The meeting that was to have been held to-night has been postponed for a few days in order to afford an opportunity for investigating the claims of the owners of the new ice making process. If the representation of the promoters can be substantiated it will not only be a boon to consumers to get this household necessity (for ice is no longer a luxury) at reasonable prices, but it will prove a profitable investment for the local manufacturing company.

SCHOOL DAYS BEGIN AGAIN.—Ten weeks of vacation for the public school children of this city are at an end. Boys and girls took up their books this morning and braced themselves for another long season of study. The number of children who applied for admittance at the opening was 2,100 and this number will be added to for some time.

The schools resumed study this morning with a rearrangement of teachers in a number of instances, the Superintendent thinking that the changes would be beneficial to the system.

DEATH OF DOCTOR BROWN.

The entire community was pained this morning to learn of the death of Dr. John Bedford Brown, which occurred at his residence on Washington street at 7 o'clock. He had been in ill health for some time, but up to the past two weeks was able to be about and attend to his practice. It having been ascertained that he was suffering with an affection of his bladder, Dr. Hunter McGuire came here on Saturday evening to take him back to Richmond to perform an operation and thereby afford him relief, but finding Dr. Brown too ill to be removed, decided to perform the operation here. This was done yesterday about 1 o'clock by Dr. McGuire, assisted by Dr. Hugh McGuire, Dr. Kiplestein and Dr. Ashby. Owing to his advanced age and his feeble condition Dr. Brown never rallied from the operation and, as stated above, died at 7 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Brown was one of the most highly accomplished and experienced physicians of this city or State and his courteous manners and kind, generous and sympathetic disposition had won for him the confidence and esteem of the entire community, where he enjoyed a large and lucrative practice.

Dr. Brown was born in Caswell county, N. C., January 1, 1825, was educated in the leading academies of that State and commenced to study medicine at the age of 21 at Lexington, Ky. He graduated at the Transylvania University, of that place, and also at the Jefferson College, at Philadelphia.

Dr. Brown's father's name was also Bedford Brown. He was born in Caswell county, N. C., in 1791 and was a lawyer, but early in life entered into politics, being an ardent democrat and a warm supporter of Jackson. In 1828 he was elected to the United States Senate and served two terms.

As a physician Dr. Brown was well known and practiced successfully in Fauquier and Albemarle counties, Va. At the breaking out of the war he was commissioned a full surgeon in the 24th North Carolina Regiment of the Confederate army and was assigned to Floyd's brigade in the army of Western Virginia, Gen. Lee at that time having command of that military department.

Gen. Lee successfully repulsed with his forces the advances of the enemy after a severe battle at Carnifax ferry, in which Dr. Brown was noticeable for his attention to the wounded and dying. (Among those who needed attention was Mr. E. L. Lambert, of this city, who is now pursuing the avocations of daily life.) The doctor was subsequently made brigade surgeon and served as such until February, 1863; later he was promoted to the position of medical director of North Carolina, and subsequently was assigned to duty as inspector of hospitals and camps in that State. A few years after the war he removed to this city, where he soon built up a large practice.

The doctor was devoted to his art and was a member of the Medical Examining Board of the State and ex-president of the Medical Society of Virginia, president of the Southern Surgical and Gynecological Association and a member of its judicial council. He was also a member of the American Medical Association. For thirty years Dr. Brown was a contributor to the medical and surgical literature of the country, his articles meeting with universal commendation. He was also a member of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons and of Lee Camp Confederate Veterans and a vestryman of Christ Church.

Dr. Brown was married, in 1852, to Mary Elizabeth Simpson, a daughter of Thomas Simpson, of Montgomery county, Md., originally from Nottinghamshire, England, and to them were born ten children, of whom seven died in infancy, the survivors being named as follows: Glenn Brown, of Washington, D. C., a prominent architect, who married Mary Ella Chapman, daughter of Alfred Chapman, who was a nephew of James Madison; Lucy Lennox, wife of Alfred G. Uhler, of this city, and Dr. William Bedford Brown, a physician in New York.

His funeral will take place from Christ Church on Wednesday morning next.

THE CHURCHES.—Nearly all of the pulpits were occupied by the resident clergy in the churches yesterday, and the delightful change in the weather brought out larger congregations than had attended for some Sundays. At the Second Presbyterian Church Rev. Mr. Rankin, of North Carolina, preached. Rev. Mr. Schuler, of Baltimore, preached at the Lutheran Church and Rev. Father Delaney conducted vespers and preached at St. Mary's. The day was an unusually quiet one.

MEETINGS POSTPONED.—On account of the torrid weather the called meeting of the City Council has been postponed. The held to-night has been postponed. The matters most requiring attention will be arranged by the committee on streets and the City Engineer.

THE MEETING OF THE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—to have been held to day, was postponed till to-morrow.

OPERA HOUSE.—George Graham and his star entertainers will be the attraction at the Opera house Thursday evening. Mr. Graham on this occasion will introduce his wonderful extemporaneous song, entitled "In Alexandria to-night," improvising words and music on the spur of the moment. Mr. Graham promises his many friends in Alexandria that he will give a strictly first class entertainment. The performance will consist of ten acts, each a novelty.

DEATH OF MRS. NAYLOR.—Mrs. Bettie May Naylor, wife of Mr. John Naylor, died at her home on Duke street yesterday morning after a short illness, in the 45th year of her age. Her husband and three children, the oldest of whom is 18 years of age, have the sincere sympathy of a large number of friends.

"They are dandies," said Thos. Bowers, of the Crockett, Texas, Enterprise, while writing about DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for sick headache and disorders of the stomach and liver. Charles G. Lennou.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

We have received an invitation to attend the Fredericksburg fair which commences on the 28th instant.

The infant child of Mr. John Crilly died this morning in the country where it had been taken for its health.

Some excitement was caused to-day on north Alfred street by a resident, while in a rage, breaking up nearly every thing in his house.

A horse belonging to Mr. Charles King was taken with colic while being driven on north Washington street Saturday night and died.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Maggie Craven, who died on Friday night at the home of her father, Mr. F. L. Entwistle, took place this evening from Trinity Church and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. L. I. McDougall and the floral tributes were beautiful.

Mrs. Wilkins who recently came to this city in a desperate condition, with her child and mother, reported at the station house to-day that her mother had disappeared. The woman soon afterward returned to the house where she is stopping, having lost her way while on the street.

Architects A. B. Mullet & Co. of Washington, have planned a handsome frame dwelling, of the colonial order, to be built on Washington street, between Wilkes and Gibson streets, for Mrs. Clarence S. French. It is to be two stories, collar, and attic, 45x60 feet, with porches front and rear, slated hip roof, furnace, tiled bathroom, electric fixtures, and other modern conveniences.

Mrs. Byron P. Turner, of Washington, died early yesterday morning in the German Hospital, in Newark, of injuries received in a fall from a trolley car on Thursday night in that city. She was with William Dyer, of Brooklyn, and he got off at Van Buren street, while she went on to Polk street and then jumped from the car before it stopped. Mr. Turner formerly lived in this city.

A bachelor friend of enforced celibacy—or as the old "work house keeper" in "Oliver Twist" would call it, "single blessedness"—observing the rivalry going on in Alexandria as to who can build the biggest house, wants to know whether, if he were to rent the vacant cotton factory on north Washington street as a residence, that would help him in the eyes of some fair and pitying damsel who is embroiled with the prevailing fancy for piles of brick.

The corner stone of the new Oakton M. E. Church, Fairfax county, was laid Thursday with appropriate ceremonies. Rev. W. E. S. Turner, D. D., of Fairfax County, Va., presided, and delivered the address. Dinner was served on the ground, and with ample accommodation for all. There was also a musical feature and other attractions. The proceeds of the occasion are for the benefit of the church.

Willie, the ten-year-old son of Mr. Wm. H. Travers, who lives on south Fairfax street, was seriously injured by a fall from a freight car, on which he was playing, on the Baltimore and Ohio ferry slip yesterday afternoon. His head was severely cut in two places, and the boy was unconscious for some time. Dr. Jones sewed up the cuts and the little fellow is resting quietly.

Alexandria Division, Ancient Order of Hibernians, met in St. Mary's Hall yesterday evening and listened to an interesting address by Rev. Father John T. Delaney, pastor of the Church of the Holy Name, Washington. The committee in charge of the recent excursion to River View reported that the affair had been a success in every particular.

A regular meeting of M. D. Corso Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, will be held to-morrow, Tuesday, night at eight o'clock, at which time there will be an election of officers for the ensuing year. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. Frank Everett, formerly of this city, in stepping from a moving electric train at the corner of King and Columbus streets this morning was thrown violently to the ground and painfully bruised.

Mr. W. H. Burroughs while at work at the Southern Railway shops this morning had his hand caught in a lathe and two of his fingers cut off.

Mr. Wm. Schwarzman has commenced the erection of a handsome two-story pressed brick residence on the west side of Fairfax street, between Gibson and Wilkes.

The burning out of the shaft wire at the electric light works caused the electric lamps to be extinguished for a short time on Saturday and again last night.

Archibald, the little son of Mr. H. H. Green, of 531 south Fairfax street, who died on Saturday, was buried yesterday.

BUT ONE CANDIDATE.—To-day, by the action of the city and county democratic committee, is the last day that candidates for the House of Delegates can announce themselves. So far Mr. L. C. Barley is the only candidate, and it is now thought probable that he will have no democratic opponent. Should he now enter the list by to-night, Mr. Barley will hand to the committee a check for $150, the amount assessed to defray the expenses of a primary and leave the matter of holding such primary to the decision of the committee, which will meet to-night.

THE WEATHER.—The torrid weather of last week was broken by a delightful breeze which sprung up at an early hour yesterday morning, and the skies became overcast and so continued till this morning. The mercury in a few hours dropped 20 degrees and the day has been a delightful one, enjoyed by all. Light was anxiously looked for, but that hope ended in disappointment, for about 10 o'clock this morning the skies cleared again and the mercury soon shot up to 88°, while the humidity in the atmosphere made the heat feel much more intense.

DIED.—On Sunday, September 12th, 1897, at 8:40 a. m. BETTIE MAY, beloved wife of John Naylor, in the 45th year of her age.

Loving wife, thou hast left me, In this sorrowing world below; But in heaven I soon will meet thee, There to meet, to part no more.

Funeral from her late residence, No. 306 Duke street, to-morrow (Tuesday) September 14th, at 4 p. m. Friends and relatives are respectfully invited to be present. No flowers.
